5th January 1923.

My dear Sir,

Since my application for the last extension of my furlough and its sanction by the Government on the 8th Dec last, the Leave Rules have been revised with effect from the 1st inst. They are so liberal that I could have preferred to rejoin duty, in case I knew of these Rules earlier. Under these circumstances I request the

Mr. Narayana Iyengar requests that he may be given the benefit of the new Leave rules as if he had rejoined duty on the 2nd instant and allowed from that date 6 months commuted furlough on average salary and the balance of leave admissible to him as furlough on half average salary.

Strictly the leave already sanctioned to Mr. Narayana Iyengar cannot be revised in any respect, as, under Art. 2 M.S.R., an officer's claim to leave should be regulated by the rules in force at the time the leave is applied for and granted. While introducing the corresponding leave rules, the Government of India made an exception to this general rule and permitted the application of the new leave rules to the officers who were on leave on the date the rules came into force. Such officers were permitted to cancel the unexpired portion of leave from the date of introduction of the new rules and substitute for it any period of leave to which they are entitled under the new rules. We may follow the same arrangement in regard to our new leave rules.

Applying the arrangement referred to in the previous para to Mr. Narayana Iyengar's case, he can have from 2nd January 1923 the leave to which he is entitled under the new rules. He has been on leave from 19th October 1921 and up to ^{1st January 1923} ~~31st December 1922~~ the period of leave availed of by him is 1 year, 2 months and 13 days. Of this period, 3 months and 28 days is privilege leave and the balance, furlough under the old rules. Under the new rules, he can have 6 months commuted furlough or combined privilege leave and commuted furlough. As he has already had 3 months and 28 days of privilege leave, he can now take only 2 months and 2 days commuted furlough on average salary. As the total period of his absence cannot exceed 2 years under Art. 150, M.S.S., he can have the rest of the period up to 10th October 1923 as furlough on half average salary under the new rules which give him a leave allowance of Rs.600 instead of Rs.500 as before.

In the circumstances stated above, Mr. Narayana Iyengar may be given the following kinds and amounts of leave:-

From ~~2nd~~ January to 3rd March 1923 - commuted furlough on average salary.

From 4th March 1923 to 18th October 1923 - furlough on half average salary at the enhanced rate of leave allowance of Rs.600 per mensem.

1. Mr. M.A. Narayaniengar, Deputy Commissioner (on leave) requests that he may be given the benefit of the new leave rules as if he had rejoined duty on the 2nd January 1923 and allowed from that date 6 months commuted furlough on average salary and the balance of leave admissible to him as furlough on half average salary.

Pages 1 & 2 of Office Notes

2. The Financial Secretary states that while introducing the corresponding leave rules, the Government of India permitted the application of the new leave rules to the officers who were on leave on the date the new rules came into force and that such officers were permitted to cancel the unexpired -
of leave portion from the date of introduction of the new rules and substitute for it any period of leave to which they would be entitled under the new rules. He recommends that the same arrangement may be followed in regard to our new leave rules.

3. If the above arrangement is approved, Mr. Narayana-iengar can take 2 months and 2 days' commuted furlough on average salary from 2nd January to 3rd March 1923 and furlough on half average salary at the enhanced rate of leave allowance of Rs. 600/- per mensem from 4th March to 18th October 1923, as certified to by the Financial Secretary and Comptroller.

4. The proposal of the Financial Secretary regarding the application of the new leave rules as in the case of the - Government of India may be graciously approved and Mr. M.A. Narayana Iyengar may be granted the leave admissible under - the new rules as stated in para 3 above.
